THE GRAFTERS MAY ESCAPE WAR TAXATION

Some Patriots Make a Million Dollars Personal Profit in the Game

WHAT ABOUT ALLISON?

Bill Providing for Seventy-five Million Dollars Put through.

March 21.—"Where does John Wesley Allison come in the question Mr. J. T. Turfitt, Hamilton, asking at the Finance Minister's office, in connection with the government's plans for taxing war profits under consideration.

Mr. Turfitt was insistent as to whether the government has been a good business and has drawn a profit of $200,000,000 on an order placed for ten million fuses, what share of the profit would "patron" pay for the $1,000,000 personal profit?

man was quite right. A provision was designed to prevent companies largely increasing salaries, and in such cases as those mentioned by Mr. Graham an allowance would undoubtedly be made.

Mr. J. A. Robb, (Huntingdon) asked if the bill would apply to shareholders of horses for war purposes. Sir Thomas White replied that it would if they were incorporated and had capital.

Mr. E. M. Macdonald asked if the contributions to the Patriotic Fund and other similar organizations would be considered in the taxation. He was afraid the tax would interfere with patriotic contributions.

Thomas said that matter had been given consideration, but it was found impossible to draw the line. He hoped companies which were saving a war tax would not have to discontinue contribution to the Patriotic Fund.

CALLS TAX ALL WRONG. Mr. F. N. McCreary, Sherbrooke, declared the measure to be all wrong in principle and practice. It was one of the worst proposals ever submitted for the encouragement of thrift.
